

CONNECTIONS

President's Corner

Summertime is here!

Our summers create opportunity in Happy Valley. With so many businesses to visit, I wonder – which business will you visit and why?

I challenge you to go into a business you haven't been in before.

I'm not sure about you, but I often get stuck in a routine and visit the same places over and over again. This isn't a bad thing yet it can take away from the opportunity of visiting a new place. I'll take on that challenge and visit a business I haven't been to yet. I hope you do the same.

Our goal is simply to create connections. As we create the opportunities, your participation does the rest. From there, relationships blossom and business progresses. I'm eager to see the fruit.

See you around.

Happy Valley 4th of July Family Festival

Join us for Happy Valley's Fourth of July Celebration! Enjoy a full day of family-friendly fun, including the parade, food vendors, live entertainment, kids' activities, and our Youth Entrepreneurs Market featuring local young business owners. Don't miss this exciting community tradition. Visit hv.city/4th-of-july for the full schedule and event details.

Summer Concerts

Summer Concerts are back in Happy Valley! Join us for the first concert of the season featuring Wild Boys on July 9 from 6:30–8:30 p.m. at Happy Valley Park. Bring your lawn chairs, blankets, family and friends for an evening of great music and summer fun.

Car Show

Rev up for the Happy Valley Classic Car Show on July 30, benefiting the Happy Valley Parks & Recreation Foundation. Whether you're a car enthusiast or proud owner, come enjoy an evening of classic vehicles and community fun—and if you own a classic car from 1972 or earlier, we encourage you to register and show off your ride!

June Keynote Speaker: Clackamas Fire

Clackamas Fire continues to strengthen its connection to the communities it serves, actively engaging as neighbors, friends, and community members.

July Keynote Speaker: National Guard

We're honored to welcome members of the National Guard as featured speakers at our July Happy Valley Business Alliance meeting. They'll be sharing the important role they play in supporting local communities—from emergency response and disaster relief to assisting during times of crisis. Their unique ability to mobilize quickly and work alongside local agencies makes them a vital part of keeping communities safe and resilient. Join us for this opportunity to hear firsthand how the National Guard serves our region, strengthens local preparedness, and supports communities when it matters most.

HVBA Membership Update

So much is happening within the business community these days in Happy Valley. The HVBA has hosted several Ribbon Cuttings each of the past few months, including Face It Skin and Austria Kenny Wealth Management, with a few more before summer is over. I'd encourage our members to attend the celebration and welcome that business into our HVBA community.

As exciting as the openings and ribbon cuttings is meeting new HVBA members and seeing them mingle with others at the monthly meetings and social events. In the coming months, members will have the opportunity to mentor the Youth Entrepreneur Program participants. These connections of our business community are the lifeblood of the HVBA.

If there are additional ways we can create connections, please let Gregg or any other HVBA Board Member know.

Welcome New Members!
